

User Walter

Hi World,

I am Walter, currently the admin of this website. Like so many I have found memories of my childhood C64. I am waiting for the delivery of my Beige C64U.

In the mean time I thought this project could be interesting. And as I love DokuWiki, that was also an incentive.

You never know how successful something like this will be. I am ready to work on this alone but hope that will not be the case. As I have also other things to do also I will invest time in this but please limited your expectations.
